

Part 4: Holy Discontent

Icebreakers

- Give a personal example of something you know you are suppose or need to do, but actually doing that thing is quite a different story.

Discussion Questions

1. What wrong, injustice or tragedy do you easily notice in your community, nation or world?
2. Why do you think it has caught your attention so easily?
3. Why is it when someone or some organization stands up to right a wrong or serve a need there always seems to be others standing in opposition? Have you seen or experienced this?
4. Jeremy challenged us to “pursue what you know is on God’s heart and trust him with the results.”
 - Does this statement encourage you or scare you a bit?
 - Does this statement show your next step toward a burden God has given you?

Next Steps & Prayer Requests

- The next time you have a thought like, “Someone should do something about that!”, maybe that someone is you. Consider and pray about it. Seek counsel. Never overlook a holy discontent.
