

PART 1 — ENTRUSTED TO GIVE

ICEBREAKER

- What's the most expensive or valuable thing you have ever borrowed or been entrusted with? How did you treat it and why?

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

1. What makes you more careful with someone's else things than your own?
2. In Matthew 25:14-15, the master gives his servants all bags of gold but each receives varying amounts. Each servant received "each according to his ability". Why do you think this matters? Why shouldn't all three receive the same amount?
3. How does it make you feel that you're a manager of God's stuff not the owner of? Is it freeing, hard to understand or perhaps a little of both?
4. If everything is God's, then why does Paul write in 1 Timothy 6:18 encouraging us to give some it away and share?
5. What does mean to you that Crosswind Church keeps none of the Be Rich money raised, but instead gives it all away to local nonprofits?
